MINUTES

- Welcome and Logistics
 - Evie Uhlfelder updated the group on the meeting minutes
 - Vice President Scott asked the group if they want more homework
 - Vice President Scott said farewell to Sarah Cunningham, thanking her for all of efforts and support;
 - Assistant Provost Sarah Cunningham announced she is leaving JHU for St Louis University
- Introduction of Smita Ruzicka, Dean of Student Life
 - Dean Ruzicka introduced herself to the group
- Behavioral Health/Crisis Response Update
 - Vice President Scott updated the group on the BH Initiative;
 - Increasing number of officers trained for Crisis Response;
 - Open floor for Committee Questions
 - Lanise Stevenson participates on the COVID advisory council, helping to prepare people coming back to campus;
 - She has noticed that students have been back on campus haven't been following social distance guidelines. How is Hopkins/Security going to be working with people on campus to ensure balance between surveillance and personal responsibility?
 - Vice President Scott agrees we all need to work together to remind each other to be responsible, we don't want Security to become "COVID Police." Security is in a position where we should here to help people, not to get people into trouble.
 - Vice President Scott discussed Prodensity app screening;
 - Dean Ruzicka stated the situation requires a public health approach and JHU comes from a place that stopping the spread is a joint effort;

- Dean Ruzicka discussed the Student Life community liaison and how the role works with people on and around campus regarding COVID guidelines and guidance.
- All agreed to holding everyone to the same standards (staff, faculty, students v visitors and community members)
- Lucas Miranda-Martinez asked about Security vaccinations.
 - Vice President Scott explained JHH v JHU prioritization based on state mandates and groups.
- Jasmine Galante introduced the idea of officers and RAs working together;
 - Vice President Scott agreed this is a great way to keep building relationships with our community;
 - Sr Director Jackson concurred, our officers want to get to know the students, too. Building relationships requires all of us talking with each other before there is a crisis;
 - Dean Ruzicka stated being in front of students when things are going well is very important;
- Lanise Stevenson would love to see the use of Social Media to push positive stories about our officers.
- Vice President Scott thanked everyone for their contribution during the discussion and ended the meeting.
